GREAT PLAINS TRACK MEET IS SET FOR MAY 2

FIRST NIGHT OUTDOOR TRACK MEET EVER HELD.

Sixty-five Colleges Have Been Invited to Send Track Teams to Meet.

The first outdoor track meet ever held at night under the bright lights will be staged at Buffalo Stadium on the night of May 2 when the Great Plains track meet will be held.

S. D. Burton, director of athletics at the college stated this week that invitations have been mailed to 65 colleges to send track teams to the meet.

It is the first time on record that such an outdoor event has been held at night. It is expected to attract much interest and increase both the attendance and entries in the meet.

The Great Plains track meet, which has been held at the college for the past several years and sponsored by the institution is one of the outstanding events in spring athletics, which is held in the Panhandle.

A number of track men on the Buffalo squad have been working out for several weeks. Track work was temporarily suspended during the recess between sessions but has now been resumed. Early indications point to a good track team at West Texas for this season.

Buffalo Stadium was equipped with 72,000 watt lights last summer and was one of the best lighted stadiums in the country. The night football games of last fall attracted large numbers of fans from nearby towns, who would have otherwise been unable to see the games had they been played in day-time.

Seven Escape As House Burns Early Sunday Morning

Seven members of the Will L. Johnson family barely escaped with their lives Sunday morning about 3 o'clock, when the family home in the 300 block on Sixteenth street was burned. Members of the family are at a loss to know the cause of the fire which was discovered by Mr. Johnson when he was awakened by the falling timbers of the roof. Breaking through a window in his bedroom he was able to make an outlet for the others to get out of the burning building.

The fire evidently started in the attic of the house as the whole roof was engulfed in flames before Mr. Johnson was awakened. He states that he was up only a short while before the fire was discovered, giving medicine to a child who was sick.

The house and furniture, both of which were practically a total loss were covered by insurance.

C. of C. to Give Free Seed To 4-H Club Boys

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce will furnish club boys of Randall County who enroll in the 4-H club work with enough free certified seed to plant five acres of ground. This is the same offer that was made last year.

The seed will be furnished from the quantity of state certified seed which was purchased to be distributed to farmers of the county at actual cost.

All that is necessary for any farm boy to obtain this free seed is to enroll in the club boys work through county agent W. H. Upchurch and promise to keep a record of his feed project according to the plan of the Extension Service rules.

Those interested in obtaining free seed and enrolling in the club boys work should do so at once Mr. Upchurch states. This is necessary, he says, in order that enough seed may be reserved from the supply now on hand to furnish the number of boys who want to enroll.

Twenty-five boys in the county enrolled in the work last year and took advantage of the offer of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

CHANGE DATE FOR MEET OF COUNTY LEAGUERS

The date of the meeting of the County Interscholastic League Directors has been changed to Saturday, March 21.

The meeting will be held at the courthouse in Canyon at 10 a. m. Saturday, according to officials of the county organization.

2 County Terrace School To Be Held Next Wednesday

A joint county terracing school for farmers of Randall and Potter counties will be held near Amarillo, Wednesday, March 25, according to arrangements completed Tuesday afternoon by P. C. Bennett and W. H. Upchurch, county agents of the two counties.

The school, scheduled for all day Wednesday, will follow a night meeting to be held Tuesday night at the district court room in Amarillo and will be held on the Dammer farm two miles east of the Tri-State Fair grounds on the paved highway. Terraces will be built, using the very latest and modern terracing equipment.

The school is being held through the co-operation of the Extension Service of the A. & M. College, the Federal Land Bank, Houston, and the Fort Worth and Denver railway. Those in charge besides the two county agents will be W. R. Bentley of the Extension Service, A. K. (Dad) Short, representative of the Federal Land Bank, and M. B. Oats, agricultural agent for the Fort Worth and Denver railway.

Two Youths Are Injured in Wreck Tuesday Afternoon

In a car wreck which occurred five and a half miles southwest of Canyon about 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, W. E. Lovell, student of the college and newspaper agent, was seriously injured and Glen Boland, another student of the college, was slightly injured.

The two youths had been hunting and were returning to Canyon. The cause of the wreck was attributed to faulty radius rods on the model T Ford car. It is said that the rods, which had been giving trouble, fell from the car and stuck in the ground and the car changed ends, throwing the two from it.

Boland was driving and escaped with only slight injuries as he was thrown from the car, while Lovell received an injury on the head, a cut on the arm and internal injuries. The accident occurred about a mile from the E. Gidden farm. He brought the two to Canyon where first aid was given Lovell who was later transferred to the Northwest Texas hospital. Examination at the hospital revealed a very serious internal injury. He was resting well this morning, hospital attendants stated.

Rotary Club Is Entertained By Trombone Quartet

The Trombone Quartet of the West Texas State Teachers College, which is composed of Bill Strain, Joe Hill, Jr., Winston Savage, and Chas. Kiker, and Miss Jessie Louderer accompanist, entertained the Rotary Club at the weekly meeting Tuesday noon.

The musicians proved to be very popular and their program drew high praise of the Rotarians. The program consisted of quartet numbers, solos, duets and two numbers whistled by Joe Hill.

A committee was appointed to make the final selection for the badges for the members of the club. The program for next week will be in charge of the classifications committee.

Visitors present were: E. W. Little, C. W. Rogers, H. B. Fain, A. E. Gosnell, O. W. Wright, Fred P. Brian of Amarillo, F. E. Savage, Bill Strain, Miss Jessie Louderer, Joe Hill, Jr., Winston Savage and Chas. Kiker of Canyon.

Rites for Phillips Peace Officer Held at Aspermont, Tex.

C. A. McLaury, well-known peace officer of the Panhandle and father of Mrs. Mace Younger of Canyon, died as a result of bullet wounds received when he attempted to arrest a cafe owner of Borger at the Phillips oil camp several miles from Borger last Wednesday afternoon. McLaury was a special officer at Phillips camp.

Funeral services were held at Aspermont, Texas. Besides his daughter here he is survived by his widow, two sons and a brother.

CHANGE TRAIN SCHEDULE

A change in the schedule of the Santa Fe train number 94 arriving in Canyon each morning from the south, went into effect Sunday. The train now reaches Canyon at 11 a. m., whereas it did arrive at 9:55 a. m.

The Six Leading College Favorites

The above group pictures the six "favorites" of the West Texas State Teachers College chosen at the Style Show held at the college on March 9, as a part of the annual contest of the Le Mirage in selecting a college queen. The six were chosen from a field of fourteen candidates for the honors of College Queen. From the six pictured above a Queen will be selected by ballot during the spring term with the other five to act as her maids of honor.

Eighteenth Annual Music Festival Of Panhandle Opened in Amarillo Early Today With Approximately 1700 Entries

The eighteenth annual Music Festival of the Panhandle opened this morning in Amarillo with approximately 1,700 boys and girls from an area within a radius of 200 miles of Amarillo assembling for the annual event. The entrants this year are expected to set a record. Miss Mattie Mae Swisher of Canyon, has served as president of the Panhandle Music Teachers Association for the past six years and is director of the voice department for the contests.

The largest number of young musicians from Canyon to ever enter the contests of the festival are entered this year. The entries jumped from 350 to 1,500 last year and an almost certain increase to 1,700 is seen for the festival at this time.

Contests ranging from vocal and instrumental to solo and ensemble classifications began at 9 o'clock at various places over the city of Amarillo, continuing through Saturday.

Many contestants were accompanied to Amarillo by their music teachers, parents and friends. It is expected that not less than 3,000 visitors will attend the festival from outside Amarillo for the three days.

The Clovis, N. M., High School Wednesday gave promise of one of the largest delegations to the festival. One hundred pupils were to make the trip.

Several contestants are entered from Carlsbad, Portales, and other points in New Mexico. A large number of boys and girls arrived early from Oklahoma and outlying points of the Panhandle.

Several annual social functions and entertainment features for the visitors are slated for tonight and Friday.

Under auspices of the Amarillo College of Music, the Fisk Jubilee Singers of Nashville, Tenn., will give a concert at the auditorium tonight, beginning at 8:15 o'clock.

Friday night at the same hour the college will present Madame Galli-Curci, world famous coloratura soprano. Teachers and students alike are expected to take advantage of this unusual opportunity to hear these noted artists.

Friday noon the many bands, orchestras and contestants in the festival will stage a parade through downtown streets. The chamber of Commerce has posted suitable cash prizes for the winners. The parade is to be staged under the supervision of Prof. Oscar Wise of the Amarillo High School. Judges for this event are yet to be selected.

Annual Banquet of Dairymen Will Be Held Friday Eve

The annual banquet of the Randall County Dairymen's Association will fetter over 200 people including members, their families and invited guests, tomorrow night at the College Cafeteria.

W. H. Upchurch will preside as toastmaster with T. C. Thompson, and Dean R. P. Jarrett of Canyon, and Mayor Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo, on the program as speakers of the evening. As a part of the entertainment a string band will furnish the music for the evening.

The banquet is the annual affair of the dairymen to which they invite their friends from among the business men of Canyon and Amarillo.

Electric Service Station to Open Friday Morning

A new filling and service station to be known as the Electric Service Station to be managed by Wray Smith will be opened in the Arnold building at the corner of Fourth Avenue and Seventeenth Street Friday morning. The station has been installed by J. A. Arnold of Amarillo and will be operated as an independent station.

The place will be operated only as a filling and service station at the present but will be enlarged to an electrical and radio shop later, Mr. Arnold states.

Mr. Arnold was a resident of Canyon for a number of years and formerly owned the Canyon Power and Light company until it was sold to the Texas Utilities company about five years ago. He has been in the electrical and radio business for a number of years.

ATTENDS DISTRICT MEET

J. S. Hand, local Magnolia agent, spent last Friday in Amarillo where he attended the district meeting of the Magnolia agents of the Panhandle. Eighty-two agents were present.

Association, sponsor of the festival, has arranged for five judges from Tucson, Ariz., to place awards in the various divisions.

Citizens Urged To Vote for Official Flower for City

The City Federation of Women's Clubs is sponsoring and carrying on work to select an official flowering shrub for Canyon. This movement was inaugurated recently at the quarterly meeting of the federation and a committee composed of Mrs. C. M. Dowlen, Mrs. John Knight and Mrs. C. R. Flesher was appointed to have charge of the selection.

The plant will be selected by the citizens of Canyon by secret ballot. The ballot is being published in this issue of the News and it is urged that every inhabitant of Canyon cast his vote.

At a meeting of the committee Monday afternoon it was pointed out that a perennial flowering shrub of a variety native to this climate and one that may be used to beautify every yard be selected. Spirea, commonly known as bridal wreath, was one of a number suggested. Lilac was also mentioned.

Give this matter your earnest attention and mail in your vote to box 396, Canyon, Texas, not later than Monday, March 23.

Osgood Writes on Recent Travels in European Cities

Prof. L. A. Osgood, head of the English department at the college, who with Mrs. Osgood and a party of others toured Europe last summer, seeing many of the most noted spots of the Old World, has written a series of articles of his travels, the first installment of which will appear in the News this week.

The first article describes the city of Copenhagen. It will appear in two installments. Others will be published later. Professor Osgood intends to publish three articles in book form at some time in the future.

Magnolia Station Has Undergone Repairs, Changes

The Magnolia Filling Station on the northeast corner of the square has been remodeled and new fixtures installed. New gasoline pumps have been installed, the building repainted, a new concrete driveway and other new fixtures added.

The station is managed by J. S. Hand. The building is owned by J. W. Johnson.

Announce Program For Zita Parent-Teacher Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Zita Community will be held at the Zita school house on the night of Saturday, March 21. The following program has been arranged:

Piano Solo—Mrs. J. W. Watson. Dialogue—Sam Elliott and Miss Stewart.

Piano Solo—Miss Beatrice Fulton.

Reading—Miss L. E. Stewart.

Folk Dance—4th and 5th grade.

Duet—Jess Upchurch and L. C. Fulton.

The Zita P. T. A. is said to be one of the strongest and most active organizations of its kind among rural schools, in the entire Panhandle. During the past year practically every family in the community took part in the activities of the association and its work with the school.

College Judging Team Takes Honors At Fat Stock Show

The stock judging team of the college, coached by Prof. Frank R. Phillips, head of the agricultural department of the West Texas State Teachers College, have returned from the judging contest held in Fort Worth last week in connection with the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show and Southwestern Exposition, bringing back first place judging honors for the Teachers College division. The team ranked third following the teams of John Tarleton and North Texas Junior A. & M.

The team of Sul Ross college was second to West Texas in the western division of the teachers colleges. The Canyon team scored a total of 1,493 points.

The 1931 team is composed of Carlton Cook, Lockney; Herschel Cathal, Lockney, and Carl Farmer, McLean, all agricultural majors. In individual honors, Cook was first, Cathal, second, and Farmer, third.

Santa Fe Begins Work of Laying New Rails West

Work was begun Monday on the laying of new steel on the Santa Fe line from Canyon to Hereford. The present 90-pound steel rails are to be replaced with 110-pound steel, the same as that used on the double track from Canyon to Amarillo.

The work is expected to last from between 30 to 60 days. It is being done by the Santa Fe crews. It is estimated that approximately 100 men will be employed in the laying of the new rails.

Spring Term Is Under Way; Pres. Hill in Austin

Spring term enrollment began this week at the college and with classwork starting Wednesday. A large number of new students were enrolled for the coming quarter, college officials announce.

President J. A. Hill is in Austin this week making an appearance before the appropriations committees of the legislature. It is expected that the final hearings for appropriations for the teachers college will be completed this week and next and that they will be brought to a vote in both houses at an early date.

All plans for the summer term of 12 weeks to begin June 3, are moving rapidly and literature announcing the summer session will be mailed out within the next few weeks.

Supt. and Mrs. J. M. Metcalf of Plomons visited friends in Canyon, Saturday.

A new departure in the regular monthly Trades Day of the Chamber of Commerce has been announced by L. N. George, secretary. At a recent meeting of the board of directors it was voted to change the day for the Trades Day from the last Monday of each month to the first Saturday in each month. With this new order into effect the next monthly Trades Day, which is expected to attract a record crowd to Canyon, will be held on Saturday, April 4.

This new plan has met with apparent approval of all concerned and much favorable comment has been received by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce upon the change in dates for it. Many new advantages have been pointed out which will be profitable to both the people within this trade territory and the merchants of Canyon, Mr. George declares.

Plans are already well under way for a good entertainment program in the form of a free rodeo to be held April 4. It is stated that some 18 or 20 good horses will be brought here. Several of these have never been ridden and have a record of rough riding. Some of the horses will be brought from New Mexico.

Charlie Stratton will have charge of the entries in the contests and all who care to enter these contests must register on or before April 3rd. An excellent list of cash prizes are being arranged for the winners. It is said that all riding will be done according to set rules to be decided upon before the rodeo begins.

Merchants are preparing to offer unheard-of bargains as attractions to shoppers in this section. With the spring season at hand bargains in practically everything needed by people on the farm will be sold at astonishing reductions.

Now is the time to begin planning to attend the next Trades Day in Canyon.

Dismiss Charges Against Man Held As Bank Suspect

Charges were dismissed this morning against W. N. Mills, who was arrested several weeks ago by A. B. Cooper, bank detective in eastern Oklahoma and lodged in the Potter county jail at Amarillo charged as a suspect in connection with the robbery of the First National bank here on the morning of January 10 when two masked men scooped up almost $14,000 and escaped after binding and gagging six persons inside the bank building.

Charges are still pending against Jim Thomas who is being held in the Nebraska state penitentiary at this time, as an accomplice in the robbery here. Thomas was captured after he was wounded in a gun battle with officers near Hastings, Neb., a few weeks ago after 13 people were bound in a manner similar to the six persons here and an early morning bank robbery staged.

Cooper, detective for the bankers association, was here this week conferring with bank officials and local officers. It was stated this morning that more arrests may be made within the next few days.

County Fails To Raise Quota For Red Cross Call

Only $30.50 of the $100.00 quota of Randall county for the American Red Cross appeal was subscribed, Dr. D. M. Stewart, county chairman, declared this week. That amount he stated was mailed to the national headquarters Tuesday. Included in the amount raised was a donation of $7 from the College Epworth League.

Dr. Stewart stated that should anyone who has not contributed to the call for relief funds by the Red Cross to aid the stricken sections of the nation, and who want to donate to the fund, may get in touch with him at once.

SEVEN WEEKS TO GO

By Clyde W. Warwick
(Representative 123rd District)

Seven weeks from last night the 120 day session of the 42nd Legislature will come to an end. That does not mean that the session must close but the pay of the members will be reduced to $5.00 per day and if a special session follows the pay will be only $5.00 per day. This means that the members will attempt to finish the vast amount of pending legislation in order to adjourn at the end of the regular 120 day period.

Superintendent of Public Instruction S. M. N. Marrs threw a bomb of consternation into the legislative camp by announcing that five million dollars must be appropriated from the general funds if the State department is to pay $17.50 apportionment during the coming two years. This in spite of the fact that the constitutional limit of 35c will most surely be made by the State Automatic Tax Board. This is the largest drain from the general funds ever called upon by the state educational department for the common schools, and will put a crimp into the general funds for the coming two years.

The question of appropriations will be one of the greatest to be solved during the coming weeks. It is hoped that the general appropriations bill may be passed in ample time before the close of the session in order that the Governor may not hold the bill at the mercy of the blue pencil after the legislators leave for home. Fast work is being done in whipping this bill into shape and it is hoped that it will be ready for printing next week.

Very few tax measures are being passed to the legislature. More than fifty proposals have been made on additional tax measures, but as pointed out last week very few of them will survive the Committee of Revenue and Taxation. It is easy to appropriate money but mighty hard to pass tax raising revenues.

A fight will be made in the Appropriation committee. This will be for adequate support for the summer schools. The board of control has not been sympathetic in the past toward the summer schools, and consequently inadequate recommendations have been made for the support of the colleges in the summer school work. It is hoped this session will correct the evils of the past and allow the summer schools adequate funds in order that the Presidents may not have to run to the governor and legislature to secure appropriations.

A bill is pending making the Governor the general financial official of the State. It is impractical and is being opposed. It would put all institutions and departments at the mercy of the Chief Executive. There are practically one hundred departments and institutions in the State and their budgets would be subject to review by the Governor every ninety days. This would mean that the Governor would have no time for anything but reviews of budgets for three months' periods which would be a very expensive and cumbersome procedure.

It is stated that thirty million dollars in delinquent taxes are due the State of Texas. Various bills are pending to make possible an easy and convenient way to collect these taxes. The House has passed a constitutional amendment asking the voters to liquidate all taxes after a ten year period. Tax payers have long felt the necessity of such a bill. It is not uncommon for tax collectors to dig up old tax bills of long standing and make the property owner dig up taxes which he thought had long ago been settled. If the State forgets to collect its tax bills, certainly the land owner should go free after ten years.

The photographs of the Palo Duro Canyon as shown by Ray V. Davis of Canyon created a very favorable impression on the legislature. Bills are pending to create a state park system. Under existing conditions it is very likely that the present legislature will not be able to pass a measure for this purpose, which will be comprehensive in scope. But the move is in the right direction to draw the attention of the people of the state to the need of a state park system.

The item for the erection of a museum for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society was presented last week by Judge J. P. Hamlin of Farwell, and Evetts Haley. The Senate agreed to $125,000.00 for the library museum building to be supplemented by $25,000.00 gift by local people, but the House committee has taken no action. It is hoped that this item will be included in the general appropriation bill.

The question of re-districting for congressional purposes is being fought out in the committee. The North Plains has little interest in this bill, but in Hale County considerable interest is being manifested. Some of the Hale county citizens wish to be in the Amarillo district while others would prefer to be in the Lubbock district.

It is generally reported here that Jim Ferguson hopes that no re-districting bill will be passed this session as he will be a candidate for congressman-at-large. There will be three congressmen-at-large if the re-districting bill should fail.

So many constitutional amendments have been proposed that requests are being made to withhold a number of them owing to the expense of holding elections on the same. It costs five thousand dollars to have each amendment advertised and on top of this must come the expense of holding elections.

West Texas land owners were forced to face the legislature again to fight for their rights. There are too many politicians in the State who do not believe in totting fair with the citizens of the State. It is incredible that the State will not be as fair with its citizens as it expects its citizens to be with it. That is the only real question involved in the land title difficulty which has been fought in the past two sessions of the Legislature. Fortunately a majority of the legislature has always taken the attitude that the State should carry out its contracts made with the purchasers of its lands. Senator Small has been the sponsor of the validating acts of the 41st and 42nd legislatures, and has made for himself friends of every land owner in West Texas, and has won the admiration of all citizens of the State who believe in the theory of property rights of private citizens.

SMALL'S NEW BILL NOT SECTIONAL

(Pampa News-Post)

J. Evetts Haley, formerly field secretary of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society and now a research professor for the University of Texas, writes interestingly of the Small land validation bill just enacted. Haley worked for the bill. The measure, although vital to West Texas, was not essentially sectional. Its opponents sought to make it look like a West Texas raid, but East Texas senators and representatives favored it almost as much as did our own legislators. For instance, W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi made a fiery and effective fight for it on the floor of the house.

The bill was West Texan in application but state wide in principles of right and justice. It clarified the policy of the state toward its contract with land buyers and landowners.

This, as other land fights, has shown how strong are the West Texas legislators and how this section is powerfully protected through its able representatives. For Senator Clint C. Small it was a continuation of his fight in behalf of hardpressed land owners. He got through a similar bill in his first term in the senate but the supreme court nullified parts of it. The new measure is believed to have bolstered the weak points of the initial effort.

Dewey Young of Wellington is another stalwart. The News has had frequent cause to correspond with him, Senator Small, Clyde

Is your gas bill really a new and additional expense—or is it simply a host of old expenses modernized and grouped under a single monthly bill? So long as you need heat for cooking, dishwashing, bathing, laundering, cleaning and so on, you must pay for it in one form or another.

No matter what other fuel you may use, it costs you something in money, and considerably more in time, effort, waiting and general inconvenience. With gas, all the bother is banished, and the former expense practically covers the cost of this effortless fuel—GAS.

Perhaps your gas bill is too low! GAS for cooking costs no more than the fuel you formerly used. GAS for refrigeration is more than paid for by the elimination of the ice bill. GAS for water heating is remarkably low in cost. Are you denying your family the conveniences, comforts and pleasures they are privileged to enjoy with complete gas service? True Economy calls for a modernization of household expenses.

Miss Geneva Ione Golden Becomes Bride of Dr. H. G. Grainger, Monday

A wedding that came as a surprise to many local residents was the marriage Monday evening of Miss Geneva Ione Golden and Dr. H. G. Grainger, both of this city, at Clovis, N. M., with the Rev. Mr. Jones, pastor of the Methodist church of that city officiating. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock.

The bride wore an attractive frock of blue crepe with accessories of brown. Mrs. Grainger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Golden of Seymour. She came to Canyon last June with her mother and is enrolled as a sophomore in the West Texas State Teachers College. As a member of the Pi Omega and the Elaphian literary societies she has made many friends in the city and has the distinction of being chosen to represent Pi Omega in the contest for college queen. Previous to her coming to Canyon she was a student in Baylor university at Waco.

Dr. Grainger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Grainger of Washington, D. C. He has been a resident of Canyon for the past 14 months, coming here from Waco

As a compliment to Mrs. William Ash who had recently entertained the club in her place, Mrs. Lottie Williams was hostess to the members of the As You Like It club and a few guests last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Williams entertained with a lovely bridge luncheon at the Tarry Tavern Tea Room in Amarillo.

The delicious luncheon was served in the blue dining room where a beautifully appointed table with centerpiece of red sweet peas and green fern was set for fourteen. St. Patrick's designs furnished suggestions for the place cards and shamrock favors.

After the luncheon the guests were shown to the upper floor where bridge was enjoyed during the remainder of the afternoon.

Mrs. Williams's guests from Canyon included: Mrs. Ash, honoree; Mrs. L. Angel, Mrs. N. E. McIntire, Mrs. Clyde McElroy, Mrs. Harris M. Cook, Mrs. T. B. McCarter, Mrs. John Fry, Mrs. F. E. Savage, Mrs. Dan K. Usery, Mrs. C. R. Flesher, Mrs. Frank R. Phillips, and Mrs. John S. Humphreys and Mrs. W. J. Flesher of Amarillo.

LEGION AUXILIARY HAS DELIGHTFUL MEETING

The American Legion Auxiliary met Monday afternoon at the Legion home with Mrs. T. H. Knight, unit president, presiding over the business session.

The eighteenth district convention of the American Legion which will be held in Perryton, was discussed. It is expected that a number of legionnaires and auxiliary members from Canyon will attend this meeting.

It was announced by Mrs. H. O. Price, child welfare chairman of the unit, that the Child Health center building at the U. S. Veterans hospital, Kerrville, Texas, will be dedicated on Easter Sunday, April 5.

April is Americanism month and Mrs. G. A. Farlow of the unit Americanism committee will be in charge of the program, stressing Americanism at the meeting in that month.

After the business session a delightful social hour was enjoyed with refreshments served to Mrs. J. Madison Daugherty, Mrs. J. B. Fowler, Mrs. Mack Gillham, Mrs. F. R. Phillips, Mrs. Ray Campbell, Mrs. W. E. Lockhart, Mrs. T. H. Knight, Mrs. H. O. Price, Lina Lee Lockhart, Martha Frances and Jane Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pierce attended the stock show in Fort Worth over the week-end.

Poor Lighting AN EXTRAVAGANCE

A survey of about one million people brought about that:

In the public schools, 22 per cent had defective vision.

In colleges, 40 per cent of those under 20 had defective vision.

No less than 71 per cent of all under 50 had the same trouble.

Of persons over 60 years of age, 59 per cent suffered from defective eye-sight.

More industrial accidents occur about the middle of the afternoon than any other time. This is due, in a large measure, to fatigue. Nothing will contribute to fatigue to a greater degree than working in a poor light. Fifteen per cent of all industrial accidents are attributable to improper lighting.

Poor lighting belongs to the days of the cave man's pine torch, the hanging fire basket, the crude oil lamp, the candle, with their smoke and flickering, wavering light.

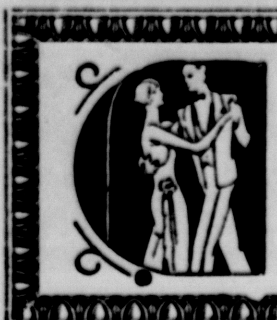

Electricity belongs to this age. There is no excuse for poor lighting. The abundant and correct use of light pays for itself many times over.

Whether in the home, office, or factory, poor lighting is an extravagance—injuring the eyes increasing hazard through accident.

MRS. DAVIS, MISS WIGGINS HOSTESSES TO B. W. CLUB

Easter bunnies and Easter flowers were gay and lovely notes in a white and pink color scheme at the entertaining affair given Wednesday evening when Mrs. Clyde Davis and Miss Edythe Wiggins were hostesses to the members of the Business Woman's club at the home of the latter, 1202 Seventh Avenue.

Potted Easter lilies and violets in a low bowl added to the attractiveness of the suite in which five tables were placed for bridge. Hand tinted score pads carrying appropriate designs with tallies to match were laid for the guests. At the conclusion of the play Mrs. Earl Robbins was winner of the high score prize, a large Easter lily, and Mrs. Vincent Shuman received consolation favor.

A dessert course depicting the chosen motif and bearing favors of miniature rabbits, was served to the following club members and special guests: Mrs. A. E. Terry, Mrs. H. W. Hartman, Mrs. Earl Robbins, Mrs. Cecil Newberry, Mrs. T. C. Thompson, Mrs. Ed Mickle, Mrs. Alvin McDonald, Mrs. Vincent Shuman, Miss Irene Presley, Miss Gladys McClanahan, Miss Emil Brewer, Miss Marie Wallace, Miss Estelle Bourland, Miss Lorena Frieze, Miss Winnie Davis, Miss Ethel Bourland, Miss Gladys Beavers and Miss Irene Crawford.

FORMER CANYONIANS ARE WED AT CLOVIS RECENTLY

Announcement was made recently of the marriage of Miss Eula Hancock of this city to Mr. Edmund Leslie Summitt, which took place at Clovis, N. M., Sunday, March 1.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hancock of Canyon. She has been reared in this city and was a student in the W. T. high school where she was a popular member of the student body.

Mr. Summitt is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Summitt of Amarillo. He is also a former resident of the city and well known here as he was for some time connected with the local "M" System. At present he is associated with the "M" System stores in Amarillo.

The couple will make their home in Amarillo at 312 North Fillmore Street.

AMARILLO PEOPLE ATTEND CHURCH HERE

Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Foster, Miss Mabel Foster, and 12 members of the Young People's Service, League, of St. Andrews church, Amarillo, attended services at the local Episcopal church last Sunday night, and were guests afterwards for an hour at the Little House of Fellowship, to meet Mr. and Mrs. Madeira, and to see the new house which many of them had not seen.

Hymns were sung and tea was served by Mrs. Elizabeth Fry Page, assisted by Misses Dorothy Lucas, Mabel Foster, Bernice Bessire and Elizabeth Crawford.

ST. PATRICK'S THEME FAVORITE OF HOSTESSES

St. Patrick's day colors and designs have proven quite popular with Canyon hostesses the past few weeks and parties have been colorful and attractive affairs. Mrs. George A. Farlow selected green and white for her color scheme when she entertained the members of the 1925 Bridge club at her home, 1813 Fifth Avenue, Wednesday afternoon and carried out the chosen designs in a very pleasing manner.

Tallies bearing an Irish motif were distributed in a high green hat and shamrock score pads were found at each table. At the refreshment hour a delicious salad course developed in green and white with plate favors of violets were served to those present.

Seated for the games were: Mrs. J. L. Duflo, Mrs. Joe Black, Mrs. J. Madison Daugherty, Mrs. Sanford Black, Mrs. Oscar Gamble, Mrs. Mark L. Foster, Mrs. Frank Hicks, Mrs. C. R. Flesher, Mrs. T. S. Maxwell, Mrs. Frank R. Phillips, Mrs. Hud Prichard, Mrs. W. A. Warren, Mrs. T. B. McCarter, Mrs. Clarence Thompson, Mrs. Andy Walsh, and Mrs. Mitchell Jones.

METHODISTS W. M. S. MEETS AT STERNBERG HOME

Mrs. A. W. Sternberg, Mrs. Ernest Shuman, Mrs. A. H. Bryan and Mrs. Thompson entertained the Methodist Missionary society at the home of Mrs. Sternberg, 1005 Fifth Avenue, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. R. McGee led the voice program which was opened by singing "I Love to Tell the Story," and gave an interesting devotional taken from the 12th chapter of Luke, 19th to 34th verses, closing with the song, "Oh, Love That Will Not Let Me Go."

Mrs. Louder gave a very interesting discussion of the Cajans Indians of Alabama. The following number was a solo, "The Rose of Picardy," sung by Miss Jessie Louder to the accompaniment of Miss Frances Usery.

An amusing and entertaining playlet, "The Hat Sale," was ably given by Mrs. William Ash and Mrs. Clyde McElroy. Delectable refreshments carrying out the St. Patrick's day motif, were served by the hostesses.

ITALIAN, SPANISH DRAMA DISCUSSED BY CLUB

Italian and Spanish drama was the interesting subject selected for discussion at the meeting of the Woman's Book club last Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. A. W. Sternberg read an enlightening paper on "Francesca Da Rimini" by Gabriele D'Annunzio. She was followed by Mrs. William Ash who talked to some length on "Six Characters in Search of an Author" by Luigi Pirandello.

Mrs. S. L. Ingram gave an interesting explanatory talk on Jose Echegaray's "The Son of Don Juan."

STATE BANQUET MONDAY IS FESTIVE OCCASION

A festive occasion for the citizens of Canyon was the state banquet given by the Women's Missionary society of the First Christian church in the church dining room Monday evening beginning at 7 o'clock.

The long tables were spread with snowy linen and were marked at intervals by vases of fragrant apricot blossoms. Green and white in St. Patrick day designs were selected to carry out the decorative theme and large green shamrocks were attractively arranged on the walls of the spacious rooms. Green and white streamers were hung at the windows and suspended from the arched doorway leading into the hall. Potted plants also added to the effectiveness of the scene.

D. A. Shirley was toastmaster of the occasion. The program was opened with a number of piano selections by Mrs. Lee Foster, E. A. Rusk, violin, and A. M. Smith, guitar, accompanied by Elzie Price on the piano, gave a number of old-time melodies reminiscent of days gone by. T. M. Clark was next on the program with an amusing reading, "Aeneas Africanus." Rev. L. R. Hudson gave two enjoyable solos in harmony with the St. Patrick's season, "Little Irish Girl" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." Interesting reminiscences of Texas were told by Mrs. Harvey Cash. She was followed by Miss Georgia Whittenburg who gave an amusing reading entitled "The Little Bug." J. D. Gamble told a number of anecdotes and entertaining stories of the earlier days of Texas.

Plates were arranged so that those native to each state were seated adjoining. Native Texans present included: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Burrow, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Thompson, Mrs. S. G. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cash, Mrs. Lee Foster, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bellah, Mrs. W. H. Stroud, Mrs. J. D. McCants, Mrs. Felix Neff, Mrs. C. R. Flesher, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Shirley, Mrs. Hendrix, Mrs. J. B. Elliston, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Scott, Miss Paulene McCants, Miss Alleen McCants, Miss Jean Day, Miss Rosa Cash, Miss Georgia Whittenburg, Miss Lena Wade Jennings, Miss Dorothy Harris, Miss Crawford, Miss Tennessee Malone, Miss Annie Laurie Scott, Miss Wilma Harris, Francis Elliston, G. G. Foster, Charlie Kiker, T. M. Clark, E. A. Rusk, Elzie Price, A. M. Smith, Rev. W. C. Kunze, John Knight, and Irby Carruth. The following were from Tennessee: Mrs. Oscar Hunt, Mrs. Henry Bradford, Mrs. G. G. Foster, Mrs. Owens, J. D. Gamble and Rhea Robbins. Rev. and Mrs. L. R. Hudson, Mrs. W. G. Harris, Mrs. White, and W. A. Amend are natives of Iowa. Misses Sue and Maxine Wallace are of New Mexico; Mrs. John Knight was formerly of Missouri; Mrs. W. E. Heizer of Ohio, and W. H. Stroud of Arkansas.

LUCKY THIRTEENS ENJOY DINNER BRIDGE

The monthly meeting of the Lucky Thirteen Nite club was the occasion for a highly entertaining dinner-bridge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Duflo, 1316 Sixth Avenue, Tuesday evening, with Mr. and Mrs. Duflo and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Eastwood as hosts.

A delicious two-course dinner was served early in the evening and bridge was enjoyed during the remainder of the time. Tallies and score pads depicting the Irish motif of St. Patrick's day were attractive table accessories.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Burt Newlin, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Farlow, Mr. and Mrs. Hud Prichard, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gano, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Black and the hosts.

MRS. CARL LAUGHERY HOSTESS TO CIRCLE

The third circle of the Baptist Missionary society met Tuesday afternoon in regular session at the home of Mrs. Carl Laughery.

The meeting was opened by the reading of the minutes by Mrs. Laughery. Eleven members answered roll call with verses from the Bible.

Devotional was given by Mrs. Andy Walsh and prayer by Mrs. Lorenzo Wirt. The lesson on the 12th to 17th chapters of Genesis was ably led by Mrs. Barnard.

Delicious refreshments were served at the tea hour to 12 members and one visitor.

All-day services will be held next Tuesday. Every member is urged to attend and to bring a covered dish. A Mothers day bazaar is being planned by the society.

Mrs. Annie V. McCarty and daughters, Miss Geneva and Miss Nora, returned Monday from Nara, N. M. where they visited Mrs. McCarty's son, Houston.

WOODMAN CIRCLE HOLDS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The Orange Grove Woodman Circle held a called meeting Monday evening for the purpose of electing and installing officers for the new term.

Mrs. Jennie Lindbloom of Amarillo, district manager, presided over the meeting. The following officers were elected and installed: Mrs. J. E. Dickinson, guardian; Mrs. Bishop, adviser; Mrs. P. V. Winstead, clerk; Mrs. C. Laughery, banker; Mrs. Ed Phillips, musician; Mrs. R. T. Bowman, chaplain; Mrs. J. C. Duke, attendant; Mrs. F. A. Pierce, assistant attendant; Mrs. Mildred Sullivan, Miss Tenie Thompson and Mrs. Henry Long, auditors; Mrs. Linnie Babston, inner sentinel; Mrs. Bob Rowan, outer sentinel; Miss Julia Dickinson, junior supervisor; Mrs. Carl Laughery, reporter; and Mrs. Ridgeway, past guardian.

Members of the circle visited the Amarillo Grove last Friday evening at which time three Canyon candidates were initiated at the same time as were ten Amarillo candidates.

Those attending from Canyon were: Mrs. J. E. Dickinson, Mrs. Ola Ridgeway, Mrs. C. L. Tanner, Mrs. Mildred Sullivan, Mrs. Clifton Duke, Mrs. Felix Pierce, Mrs. Roy Rogers, Mrs. Mark Laughery, Miss Esther Fogarty, Miss Tenie Thompson, Mrs. R. T. Bowman and Mrs. Carl Laughery. Delightful refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

MR. AND MRS. ED MICKLE ENTERTAIN WITH BRIDGE

St. Patrick's colors and designs were selected by Mrs. Ed Mickle for her decorative theme when she and Mr. Mickle entertained a number of their friends with bridge last Thursday evening and again Monday evening.

Colorful flowers were effectively used in the reception rooms. Tallies and scorepads followed the chosen motif. A delicious supper course was served following the games.

Seated for the games Thursday Easter tallies at Warwick's.

evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Irby Carruth, Mr. and Mrs. Ed C. How you feel in the morning tells the real story

THAT'S the time you should feel like whistling and singing. Your muscles should itch to tackle the day's work. Your mind should quickly solve the problem that baffled you the afternoon before. Don't let your health slip away so that a night's rest fails in its natural recuperative powers. When you awaken with a "dragged out" physical or mental feeling, heed those bad symptoms. That's the time you need a dependable tonic to help restore your old time energy. Try a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is sold by druggists.

Spring Fashion Hint: Suit Yourself

REGARDLESS OF THE NUMBER OF YOUR COATS AND ENSEMBLES, PLAN ON AT LEAST ONE SUIT—COLOR CONTRASTS IMPORTANT THIS SEASON

BY HARRIET

PICKING suitable attire early in the season is a delightful gamble. If you do hit upon a suit the odds are that you will lead the fashion parade.

Suits were talked about by all last year, and worn by some. This season, however, they are right in the limelight. You should have a suit, no matter how many coats and ensembles you plan.

The color of your suit, the accessories you wear with it, and the way it is fashioned are all important. There are new innovations such as new collar lines, new neck closing, new scarf collars.

Jackets can be any length you want them, depending on your own jauntiness, your waist measure and the type of person that you are.

The two outstanding types of spring suits, and by that is meant short jacket suits, are the coat and skirt suit with separate blouse, and the frock and coat suit, with some kind of a jacket matching the frock.

For early spring there are many soft wools. If you want a plain color, not a plaid, a check or a flecked or striped material, there are many new plain materials.

COLOR combination is important. Few are the suits that are all one color, with no relief from monotony. Browns and greens, tans and green, blue and darker blue, a ruddy brown with orange, a rust red with yellow or white, some of the raspberry shade with dark purple brown, greens of two tones or green and yellow, black with almost any of the opaline pinks, greens, blues, yellows, black and white—these are all seen.

Liveliness in combination of color takes the place of too gay a color in the whole suit. You can have a colored suit that you won't tire of, blue, gray, beige, tan, brown or green and then enliven it tremendously with gay hat, scarf, blouses, gloves, shoes, beads.

Two of the latest spring styles are pictured, both suits but both different.

FIRST comes the two-piece suit, of skirt and blouse, with the choice of wearing any number of blouses with it. This suit is of the new Lido blue ostrich cloth, with darker blue and beige accessories. The suit has a two-piece skirt, flaring with inverted pleats on each side seam, and a belted jacket that comes well down on the hips. The coat is collarless, with a dark blue and beige striped scarf that is attached across the back but can be replaced by other scarfs if you wish. Dark blue shiny straw hat and shoes complete the picture.

Second comes the dress and jacket suit, incidentally showing how original the neck closing of coat collars may be this spring. This suit is tan wool pebble crepe, with touches of new spring green. The frock is made with a sash of the green and a scarf of the same color. The short flaring jacket buttons across the yoke with two green buttons. Green also bands the hat and colors the beads.

"CANYON C. C. ESTABLISHES DISPLAY OF CANYONS"

The following item appeared in an Austin paper regarding the display of Palo Duro Canyon pictures which Ray V. Davis took to Austin:

"In an effort to arouse interest of the legislature in the move to establish a state park which would include Palo Duro canyon in parts of Randall, Armstrong, Briscoe and Swisher counties in the Texas Panhandle, the Canyon chamber of commerce has established a 'semi-pro' lobby on the floor of the house consisting of a collection of pictures of the canyon.

"The exhibit is in charge of Ray V. Davis, vice-president of the Canyon organization.

"Approximately 60 color pictures of the canyon's beauties were in the collection which drew considerable admiration from members of the House."

MRS. MARION BISHIR TO UNDERGO OPERATION SOON

Mrs. Marion Bishir, who left last week to enter the Baptist hospital at Dallas, will undergo a major operation the latter part of the week, according to her father, Dr. D. M. Stewart, who returned to Canyon Sunday from her bedside.

Mrs. Bishir is in very good physical condition for the operation, said Dr. Stewart. Mr. Bishir is also in Dallas with his wife.

REBEKAHS MEET AT HALL TUESDAY EVENING

Regular work was carried on at the meeting of the Canyon Rebekah lodge Tuesday evening. Reports from the various committees were heard and discussed.

Mrs. Marie Hair, past noble grand, and Mrs. Ruby Tanner, vice grand, are attending the grand lodge at Fort Worth this week.

Those present were: Mrs. Minnie Hendrix, Mrs. Gertrude Trowbridge, Mrs. Martha Greenfield, Mrs. Mary B. Weeks, Mrs. Margaret Cole, Mrs. Myrtle Stratton, Mrs. Bertie Strain, Mrs. Dollie Taylor, Mrs. Ida Johnson, Mrs. Nannie Myers, Mrs. Ola Ridgeway, Mrs. Mildred Sullivan, Mrs. Rosa A. Bailey, Mrs. Winnie Gibbs, Mrs. Fannie Lockhart, Mrs. Winnie Laughery, Miss Tenie Thompson and Miss Maye Warren.

The lodge members met this afternoon at the hall for a quilting party. They will also meet again tomorrow afternoon and all are urged to be present.

It is urged that every member be present at the meeting next Tuesday evening as special business will be attended to and a social hour enjoyed.

When little Alex appeared at grandma's house wearing his first boy's trousers she pretended not to recognize him. "Oh, it's a strange little boy," she said. "It can't be Alex, because Alex wears rompers."

"But it is Alex, grandma," he insisted, glancing down at his new trousers, "cause I was there and saw mother put 'em on me."

HOME EC MAKES PROGRESS

The second year foods class is making an outstanding showing this year under the supervision of Mrs. Brady. The girls are learning to make many very attractive and delicious meat, vegetable, salad, dessert, and iced dishes.

A few days ago Mr. Carruth was served with an attractive dish of ice cream and cake. The following note of appreciation was given in return:

"To the best cooking class in the country.

Greetings:
This bit of evidence is to show my appreciation of the splendid work being done by the cooking class. Your culinary skill is unlimited and your magnanimous spirit is unprecedented. I am at your bidding; if at any time, you are in need of a bit of matrimonial testimony to culminate your nuptial adventure.

"Tastefully yours,
"IRBY B. CARRUTH."
The girls are very thankful that they have such a considerate and appreciative superintendent.

"I don't like the looks of that haddock."
"Well, madam, if it's looks you're after, why don't you buy goldfish?"

Weak, UNDERWEIGHT bodies invigorated with NEW STRENGTH

Colds, flu and sickness play havoc with the red-blood-cells and the body therefore has less resistance against further disease attacks!

Every Spring take S.S.S. Tonic

Hollow and sunken places fill out!

Every spring countless thousands take S.S.S.—the purely vegetable tonic—to build back their red-blood-cells so that they may have that new strength which makes for a keen appetite, firm flesh, a clear skin and greater resistance against infection and disease. You, too, will want to take S.S.S. for this very reason. Select the larger size as it holds double the quantity and represents a price saving. © S.S.S. Co.

One of Best Track Men Wayne Tucker

Among those men who are coming out for track there is one who is always there when the finish line is broken.

This man is Wayne Tucker, better known as "Tuck" to his schoolmates. He came in four feet behind the famous "Babe" Russell of Hereford in the District One finals of the Inter-League Tournament here last year.

Unlike Russell, who won the state meet in the 100 and 220 yard dashes last year, Tucker specializes in the 440 or 220.

MERRY MERRY CUCKOO

Among the Interscholastic League contests the most interesting of the literary events is the one act play division.

C. H. S. entered a comedy in the Panhandle Speech Tournament held in Amarillo last December and won third place. "The Merry, Merry Cuckoo," a one act tragedy, by Jeanette Marks, the play that is to be entered in the Interscholastic League contest, was presented in chapel last Thursday.

The characters are as follows:
Annie Kathryn Bryant
David Irving Gamewell
Lowry Pritchard Betty Sternberg
Guto Pritchard Robert Black

An elderly colored lady appeared at the paying teller's window and signed a receipt for $100. The teller finding the signature had changed somewhat asked her age, she replied, "Ah don't know." "Don't you know what year you were born in?" asked the teller politely. "Boy, when Ah was born Ah didn't know one year from another," was the prompt reply.—The Sasings Banker.

Sometimes you think that a young fellow is throwing away his money when he isn't. It is his papa's money.

Several Debates Are Scheduled Between Schools

On Thursday, March 19, both the girls and boys teams are going to Hereford to debate the negative of the question: "Resolved that a substitute for trial by jury should be adopted."

Last week both the girls and boys teams went to Hereford and debated the affirmative of the question. The girls team won 2 to 1 from the Hereford team, and the boys lost 2 to 1 from Hereford.

This is a good start for the year, and Canyon High School hopes that they will continue their good work.

According to the schedule they plan to debate with Goodnight, Priona, Panhandle, and Tulla. The dates for the debates have not yet been stated.

The girls debate team, Katie B. Lowe and Elizabeth Jameson, will debate the Amarillo girls, Friday night, March 20. The subject for debate is, Resolved that the jury system should be abolished. Everyone interested in debates is cordially invited.

THE QUITTER

When you've lost your smile, and you're scared as a child,
And defeat looks you bang in the eye,
And you're sore as a boil, it's according to Hoyle
To cock your revolver and die.

But the Code of a Man says: "Fight all you can,"
And self-dissolution is barred.
In hunger and woe, oh, it's easy to blow,
It's the hell-served-for-breakfast that's hard.

"You're sick of the game!" Well, that's a shame.
You're strong and you're brave and you're bright,
"You've had a raw deal!" I know—but don't squeal.

Buck up, do your damndest, and fight.
It's the plugging away that will win you the day.
So don't be a piker, old pard!
Just draw on your grit; it's so easy to quit.

It's the keeping-your-chin-up that's hard.
It's easy to cry that you're beaten—and die;
It's easy to crawl and crawl;
But to fight and to fight when hope's out of sight—

Why, that's the best game of them all!
And though you come out of each gruelling fight,
All broken and beaten and scarred,
Just have one more try—it's dead easy to die.

It's the keeping-on-living that's hard.
Small Mary Jane: "Mother, why hasn't papa and hair?"
Mother: "Because he thinks so much, dear."

Mary Jane: "Why have you so much, mother?"
Mother: "Run along and play now!"

C.H.S. Talkies Have Program About Actors

Miss Weter announced that the declamation and extemporaneous speaking had opened in the C. H. S. Talkies' regular meeting Friday. An interesting program was then given on movie actors. Vincent Lockhart gave a report on Dick Grace. Kathryn Robinson gave a report on friendships among the stars. An interesting talk on Charlie Chaplin's favorite shoes was given by Irving Gamewell. Melba Gamewell told about one of the famous movie actresses.

Debate Held At Boys Assembly Wednesday Morn.

"Resolved: That a substitute for trial by jury should be adopted" was the question over which a very interesting debate was held in the boys' assembly Wednesday, Mar. 11.

Vincent Lockhart and George Gaede were speakers for the negative, and Ogden Stroud and Hosea Foster were speakers for the affirmative.

When the votes were collected from the judges, it was discovered that there was one vote for each side and one for a draw.

RESTRICTED THINKING

Restricted thinking is a dangerous thing. It circumscribes action. It fails alike to take cognizance of opportunities and dangers and therefore cannot prepare for them.

The time is here when individuals think in terms not only of their city but of their country, their territory, their state, nation and the world. Modern inventions, faster modes of travels, lightning communications have brought the world so close together that nearly every individual is affected by some far distant occurrence.

Dalhart cannot afford to think only of Dalhart. A pile of corn can be piled so high with a given base. To be piled higher the base must be widened. It is equally true that Dalhart can grow just so big until the territory around it grows. In helping develop its territory Dalhart is helping develop itself. Prosperity will not be penned up in one town or one country, the whole must prosper if the part would prosper.—Dalhart Texan.

School Starts Safety First With Patrol

Canyon High School has organized a Safety First Patrol to protect the lives of the school children. This patrol will have four members, their positions to be: at the south end of the grade building, at each of the two sidewalks leading to town, and at the north side of the high school.

Some time ago the city put up stop signs to aid the school children, but the drivers are careless in observing these signs. Since there are seven hundred school children crossing the roads four times a day, it is imperative to regulate the traffic; therefore the school is putting these high school boys out to regulate the traffic before school, after school, and at noon.

Mr. Carruth states, "I would like to ask personally that the citizens co-operate with the school by observing these stop signs and being courteous enough to members of patrol to take notice of their presence. We believe that with the patrol and the citizens co-operation we can avoid any accidents."

Visitor (looking over fraternity house): "Don't you know roller towels are against the law?"

Brother: "Yes, but that one was put up before the law was passed."

The Scot, goat of many anecdotes, occasionally turns the tables.

In an English political meeting one of the candidates patriotically orated: "I have been born an Englishman, I have lived an Englishman, I hope I shall die an Englishman."

From the back of the hall, in an unmistakable accent, came the question:

"Mon, hae ye no ambeetion?"—Lord Alness.

"The Merry, Merry Cuckoo" Is C.H.S. Entry in Contest

The Canyon High School will be represented in the Panhandle Music Festival by Jeanette Golden, who is entering in the solo division; Reese Hough, who will enter in the clarinet solo; and Lilla Beth Burroughs, Rosa Cash and Jeanette Golden in the trio contest.

This is the first time that the Canyon High School has entered contestants in the music festival. The group of entries is under the supervision of Miss Flora Lou Scott.

4,000 NEW ADVERTISERS

"While we have been talking here this afternoon," said a well-known advertising specialist, in a recent address to a group of business men, "four thousand old men and women have died. The knowledge they had of your products died with them. So if you are to educate and hold as customers the 4,000 young men and women who succeeded them, you'd better advertise consistently."

A colored man got his nerve together and took a flight in an airplane. As he climbed out of the ship on its return to the field, he turned to the pilot and said:

"Suh, Ah has to thank you fo' both dem rides."

"What are you talking about?" said the aviator. "You only had one."

"No, suh," returned the passenger. "Ah had two—mah fust an' mah last."

Like Tea . . . the best Gasoline is Blended

EVEN the Japanese maiden who laboriously picks the tea leaves knows that before you sip the delicate beverage from your cup, leaves of another type of tea must be added, for the best tea invariably are blended.

When the tea merchant takes a quantity of Japanese tea, a bit of China tea, and a touch of Ceylonese, then blends them according to the dictates of his expert knowledge, he parallels the making of CONOCO Gasoline. For this is a blended gasoline. It is blended because this is the only method which brings together in one fuel the desirable properties of several types of gasoline. No one type of gasoline can contain them all.

CONOCO refiners use: Natural Gasoline, for quick starting; Straight-run Gasoline, for power and long mileage; Cracked Gasoline, for its anti-knock properties.

There is no secret formula covering the elements which compose this triple-test gasoline. The secret is in the knowledge behind the blending. Knowing how makes one tea blend better than all others . . . and knowing how places one gasoline in a distinct quality class. Experience the performance advantages of CONOCO Balanced-Blend Gasoline. You'll find it wherever the CONOCO Red Triangle is displayed.

Famed Artists To Appear on Music Festival Program

The Panhandle Music Festival is being staged in Amarillo on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, March 19, 20 and 21. Besides the contest feature which makes the festival one of the greatest in the middle west, there will be two great artist attractions under the direction of Emil

F. Myers of the Amarillo College of Music.

Tonight the famous Fisk Jubilee singers will appear in a concert. These singers have devoted their lives to the collection and presentation of negro spirituals, plantation and work songs, giving their time and the money made by them to aid in the maintenance of Fisk University of which they are all graduates.

They are the greatest and the original exponents of negro spirituals in the world today.

On Friday night music lovers from the entire Panhandle section will hear the most noted soprano in the world, Galli-Curci, herself. She has just returned from a tour of England where she sang to 9,000 people in Albert Hall, London more than a week's time.

The Panhandle Music Festival contests this year will be conducted on the same big scale as in the past. There being over 300 pupils who have entered in piano solo alone from the classes of teachers over the entire territory. A score of bands and orchestras will compete with each other for honors as well as many choruses and glee clubs.

The Panhandle Music Festival was started in the spring of 1914 by Emil F. Myers and has continued to grow until it has become so large that it takes the help and active assistance of practically every teacher in this section to handle the many details of the event. The contests are under the direction of the Panhandle Music Teachers association of more than 100 members. Mr. Myers sponsors the great imported artists for the event.

HIS OPINION

An old offender was found guilty of stealing a horse and received a stiff sentence on account of his previous record. The judge addressed him as follows:

"It is my intention to sentence you to eight years at least. Now, before sentence is formally pronounced, I shall listen to anything you may have to say on your behalf."

After a minute or two the culprit spoke:

"I don't know ez I've got any thing to say only this, it strikes me that you folks 'round here are purty toler'ble dam' liberal with other people's time."

Training schools for janitors are proposed. A course in thermometer reading should be included.

TELEPHONES

Have you noticed the different effect upon you of the manner in which different persons use the telephone?

The indifferent answer that some operators give to your inquiry leaves you discontent; the imperious manner in which some demand, "Who wants him?" leaves you disgruntled; the raucous voice which some possess grates upon your nerves.

Then there are those cheer-producing persons who make you welcome with a pleasant-voiced "hello" and words of service packed into the short talk with them. You visualize a person fresh as a sea breeze; a person who finds life good to look upon; and the best that is in you comes to the front.

Frequently you forget the number of firms whose switchboard girl is indifferent, harsh, impolite; you never forget the number of the company whose "hello girl" says it with a vibrating smile.

The moral (if there has to be a moral). Our own telephone voices can, and do, make toward the success or failure of this company. Into each telephone conversation we can put courtesy, friendliness, pleasantness and do it effectively in using that powerful instrument for good, when used pleasantly, the voice.

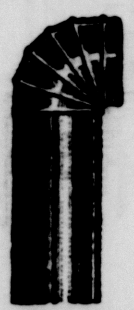

LESSON IN GRAMMAR

Teacher: "Parse the sentence, 'Bill married Mary.'"

"Pupil: 'Bill's a noun because he's the name of something; because it joins Bill to Mary, married is therefore a conjunction, and Mary's a verb, because she governs the noun.'"

Son: Say, pop, the teacher asked me to find the greatest common divisor.

Pop: Great Scott! Is that thing still lost? The teacher had me hunting for it when I was a kid.

DOING THINGS FOR PEOPLE

I have a friend who occupied a prominent official position in Washington for a number of years. After his retirement he opened an office and let it be known that he would act as an adviser to individuals and companies having business to transact with the government.

Recently he told me that his first year's income was about ten times as large as he had dared to hope for.

"The only way I can explain it is that I am now cashing in on my life-time habit of doing things for people," he said. "When I was in office I never could see why it wasn't worth while to go to a little trouble for folks if you could do it properly. So when a man came to me I didn't try to side-step by saying, 'You'll have to take matter up with such and such a department.' I just tried to help him out."

I wasn't scheming about it. I had no conscious notion that I was laying up treasure in Heaven, or anything of that sort.

"But apparently people remembered and appreciated, and now they are taking pleasure in paying me back."

Neither by temperament nor conviction do I belong to the United Brotherhood of Pollyannas. I do not hold that we live in the best of all possible worlds, nor that selfishness is always punished and virtue always rewarded.

On the contrary, I see many notable examples of men who have apparently never done a gracious thing in their whole lives who yet have achieved fortunes and, are quite serene and contented in the enjoyment of the good things of the world.

But at several different times in my own experience I have been surprised by having bread which I cast on the waters and forgotten come back to me spread with good butter and even considerable jam.

One of the most valuable contacts of my business life grew out of work which I did for a certain charitable organization, with no thought of personal gain. And a large piece of business once walked into my office, sent by the brother of a man whom I had been able to help many years before, and in an entirely different part of the country.

Speaking personally, I should say that the chance of being rewarded for good works is sufficient so that any man is justified, from a purely selfish standpoint, in going out of his way occasionally to be kind.

To say nothing of the fact that doing things for other people brings a personal satisfaction which is, in itself, a reward.

The cross-examining lawyer asked the witness a question.

"I think—" he began.

"We don't care what you think; we want to know what you know," remarked the lawyer.

"Well, I may as well get off the stand, then," said the witness. "I can't talk without thinking. I'm no lawyer."

The Irish night watchman at the observatory was new. He paused to watch a man peering through a large telescope. Just then a star fell.

"Man alive," he exclaimed with amazement, "You're shure a foine shot."

"What kind of business do you think women are fitted for?"

"M'm—well, 'most any kind except minding their own."—Unidentified clipping.

Stomach Troubles Headache and Dizziness

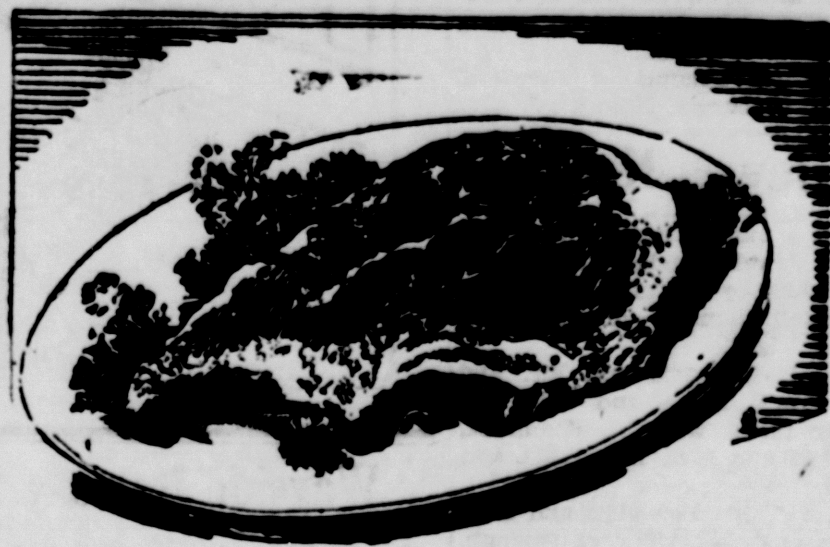

If your stomach is sick, you are sick all over. If you can't digest your food, you lose strength, get nervous and feel as tired when you get up as when you went to bed.

The Charm of Copenhagen

By L. A. OSGOOD.

(Editor's Note: This is the first installment of a series of articles written by Prof. L. A. Osgood, telling of his travels during the past year when he visited several countries of Europe, including some of the most historical and picturesque places of the Old World. "The Charm of Copenhagen," the first of the series, will appear in two installments. Others will follow.)

"Some day," said I to my wife, "we shall come back to Copenhagen."

We were leaning on the deck rail of our freighter—the sturdy S. S. Schnectady—and gazing back across the white-capped waters to the curiously-twisted, copper-sheathed spires of Denmark's fair capitol.

As we lingered there, the royal yacht glided past us and slipped unostentatiously into the harbor. The King of Denmark was returning home for the Monday audience in Christiansborg Palace.

We wondered if the little bronze mermaid, "Den lille Havfrue," had her eyes upon the royal vessel and if she had caught a glimpse of a handsome prince with great black eyes. Those who have read Hans Christian Andersen's tale of the little sea-maid, enjoy seeing this lovely bronze statue there beside Langelinie promenade. It is one of Copenhagen's chief charms. The Danish children adore the little bronze maiden and play about her the long day through. We saw one little chap climb shyly up the rock on which she sat and hesitatingly kiss her small, round breast.

We doubted the presence of a prince aboard the yacht, for we knew that the crown price was at home; but we greatly admired the slim craft's trim lines and wished that we might catch a glimpse of democratic King Christian X. We had not been among the privileged to see his tall figure swinging unconventionally along the pavements of Copenhagen, accompanied only by his favorite dogs and greeting all whom he met.

The Danish capitol is always gay when the royal family is in residence. We reviewed what we had been told of the gay life of the city and thought that we would enjoy seeing Copenhagen in her gayest mood; but in the final analysis of the lure Copenhagen held for us, we knew that it was not the thought of the city's lighter moments that had enthrallled our spirits, rather was it that indefinable something certain cities seem to possess—that elusive quality men designate "charm."

Copenhagen is possessed of a charm distinctly its own. One cannot say, "It is here," or "It is there," for it is everywhere and is most difficult to indicate. It is ingrained—wrought into the very fibre of the lovely city's soul. One feels it immediately he steps into the crooked ostergade; it lingers with him poignantly as the gray-green outlines of the shores fall away into invisibility astern his outward bound vessel.

We felt, as we whispered there at the rail, that our hearts had caught the vibratory rate of Copenhagen's charm and that we had "tuned in" with the town's personality. We felt, too, that Copenhagen's charm had woven the woof of its peculiar appeal into the very warp of our souls.

How vast Copenhagen appeared, stretched out before us in panoramic view! Along with Frederiksberg and the newly incorporated districts, it is a city of some seven hundred thousand souls: one-fifth the total population of the kingdom. And of these—we smiled at the thought, some two hundred thousand: men, women, children; old and young, abroad daily on bicycles. Down the thoroughfares they wheeled their even-tempered pace, heedful always of traffic regulations. No congestion; no hurry. In their well-ordered progression these cyclists are typical of the serene life of all Denmark. Prosperity and comfort on every hand, but nowhere any sign of a mad scramble after the krone.

Leaning now upon our deck rail and gazing wistfully landward toward the "city of beautiful towers," we let our memory wander back through the adventures of the six happy days in Copenhagen.

How our hearts had sung that first morning as we strolled, enchanted, along the main street of the city, narrow affair that it was, and craned our heads backward for an upward look at the scarlet geraniums flowering on the ledge of every window at every story of some of those downtown buildings! We were intrigued by the marvelous arrangement of gorgeous blooms and of gently-retriving blossoms in the windows of the florists' shops. They ravished our aesthetic sensibilities. Never anywhere had we seen such original designs in baskets and bouquets; never such daring combinations of flowers and colors as were displayed in those windows. Glimpses of genli-created gardens—that is what they were like. . . . But those scarlet geraniums in their green boxes on high window ledges!

And the thrill that first morning, when we came quite by accident upon a little basement shop—down a short, precipitous flight of steps from the sidewalk—where we found strawberries and cream at eight re the service! (about twenty cents, or a little more!) Luscious, red berries so—palatably sweet that sugaring them were a crime, and so large that one berry was a comfortable mouthful. All we could eat of them, too; so generous was the helping served us.

And the milk! Fresh from sleek, mild-faced cows pastured on the neatest, cleanest farms in the world. As one sipped it, ice-cold, from tall, brittle-thin glasses, he could let his thoughts image those weed-free farms with their thatched-roofed cottages embowered deep "in tufted trees." He could see the cheery-faced, sombre-clad housewife skimming with prideful strokes her satiny creams. He could see the stolid-looking, but keenly alert farmer loading the shining milk cans, city-bound, into his cart or chevrolet. And everywhere everything spotless. Holland cannot excel Denmark in sanitary caution, so that one can sip his milk in careless enjoyment.

Again and again the strawberries and the delicious milk and cream teased us back to that snug little shop there in the basement down below the level of the Amagerov. Even while indulging in raspberries and clotted cream in Devonshire and in Cornwall, we longed for the strawberries and wholesome cream of Denmark. Once a day, at least, we dropped into the little shop; and now, as we stood there at the rail of our freighter, motionless on the gray waters of the sound, and yearned our vision towards Copenhagen's exotic skyline, we gladly would have given every yellow krone we possessed for another blue-and-white bowl of Denmark's supreme bonne-bouche.

Some one behind us remarked about a show window in the fashionable ostergade, and away went our thoughts on window-shopping tours. Window shopping through the quaint streets of Copenhagen is an adventure for either sex. There are windows quite like those familiar to us here in the states, and there are windows that could have been decorated only by a native Dane. We had enjoyed both types of window; but invariably it was the peculiarly national window that coaxed us to explore the interior of the shop to which it belonged.

Etchings and hand-made laces to be had for a song, and friends to be remembered in far-away America! We felt like wealthy connoisseurs in such shops; but we had between us, my wife and I, only two hundred dollars duty exemption and not the wherewithal to satisfy the greedy American customs on any excess purchases. We bought as wisely and as well as we could, and then with righteous self-denial turned deaf ears to the seductive words of soft-voiced clerks and took our way with a firm determination into the street.

In our childhood we had learned to associate the name of Copenhagen with romantic porcelains. Old Mrs. Thurman had let us take hers down from the littered mantelpiece and arrange them in colorful procession along the blue-laced seam of the ingrain carpet of her bourgeoisie sitting-room. Old Mrs. Thurman: these long years her hard-working bones had been at rest under the sunny lawns of Mount Hope; but now her ever-youthful spirit seemed to lead us into the porcelain stores.

In these shops we could have loitered, forgetful of time's steady march. There were velvety enamellings to enamour the eye with their sensuous appeal, over whose glossy surfaces one's fingers loved to trail caressingly. We were tempted to purchase one exquisitely lovely piece, richly colored and optically fascinating. On a small elliptical pedestal, not more than seven by ten inches in its diameters, was sculptured a romance out of the heavily damasked pages of Arabian Nights, permeated, as it were, with the odor of attar-of-roses. A portly Emir, resplendent in purples and reds and glittering gold, stood regarding the huddled figure of a radiantly beautiful slave girl. Only an artist born to the craft could have blended such flesh tones into the figure of that humiliated child, whose abundant black tresses were all too lacking to veil her innocently seductive beauty. What a gorgeous piece it would make for a radio top! But the price and the dangers involved in transportation prohibited, and nothing else the shop had to offer would do.

Was it in an emporium such as this, we wondered—an emporium that was a veritable Ali Baba's cavern, that old Mrs. Thurman had selected the porcelain treasures she had so tenderly conveyed in her long trek across the turbulent Atlantic and the rough wilderness of America to her final home in San Diego, there to set them up beside those fascinating terra-cotta pieces from Old Mexico?

Well, in the earlier days "Copenhagen" and "porcelain" may have been synonymous terms, but today we find that a rival to porcelain had appeared upon the scene. Georg Jensen, the Danish silversmith, had created a new market: a market so deservedly popular that his craft is being imitated far and wide. This rival of porcelain's is hand-fashioned silver with a sheen in its chaste smoothness like that of velvety satin.

The youthful clerk in charge of the silver shop smiled indulgently upon our spontaneous enthusiasm. Himself a fair-haired son of the Northland, he had nevertheless been in the states: in New York City and Washington; and he could appreciate American enthusiasm for the old world's arts and crafts. He spoke English as fluently as he did his native Danish, which fact helped to make us very fond of him. One loves the sound of his own tongue when a wanderer in a strange land, and reacts most kindly toward him who sings its accents to his hungering ear.

The chance acquaintances one makes in these unfamiliar cities add a mellowing charm to the hectic days of sightseeing. There is, for example, our little friend in the Doll Shop—the shop that felicitously enjoys royal patronage. We found her the day we dined on frankfurters, sauerkraut, and horribly bitter beer in the Munich restaurant. Such a relief to our eyes as that carnival window of the doll shop was after the dinginess of the German ratskeller! The sight of it was like trembling from the edge of a threatened nightmare into a dream of holiday pageantry.

Dolls galore; A carnival host. Boy dolls and girl dolls! Russian dolls and German dolls! Swedish dolls and Danish dolls—the Danish dolls dressed in elaborately embroidered folk costumes. Stay outside we could not; so into the shop we went and into the warming graces of Amalie Mueller. "Ja, Ja!" She could have dressed for us a boy doll and a girl doll in typical Dutch costume, and the cost would be no more than for similar Danish dolls. So we placed our order for "Jacob and Katinka." And the Dutch twins were now reposing in stately possession of our cabin, each in his carefully wrapped box with funny little wooden handles slipped through a loop of the package string to facilitate carrying.

From dolls to fish is a far cry, but we discovered a fish market, which, in its own peculiar way, proved to be quite as charming an adventure as the one we had enjoyed in the Doll Shop. Back of the Christiansborg Palace there runs a narrow canal up into which the Skovshoved fishermen pilot their weathered craft. In the bottom of each boat is a tank filled with fish or eels. And along with the fisherman comes his wife. She carries her tub up the steps from the mooring float to Gammel Strand and finds her accustomed place. There she sets down her tub and her trays. Her man brings up buckets of fish, which he dumps into the tub. This task done, he returns to his boat to smoke or to "chin" with the men in adjoining craft. When the wife needs more of his catch, he carries it up to her; but sit and clean and sell the fish or eels, he does not.

Dressed in tightly-fitting basques and full skirts (ankle-length) of heavy, dark material, and with their wooden-soled leather shoes and large white caps, the fisher women sit through the long hours of summer sunshine and deftly slit and clean their eels and fish, at the same time haranguing or wheeling the passing shoppers. Noted for their smart tempers and their sharp tongues, these ladies from Skovshoved and other fisher villages are shrewd and hard to deal with. They seem to think that their being in Gammel Strand is on their part a condescension to the housekeepers of Copenhagen, and as a result of such thinking they are apt to insist tempermentally upon an extreme courtesy from a customer.

Substitutes For Butter Meeting With Opposition

The campaign for increased consumption of dairy products over the Panhandle-Plains area, is constantly gaining momentum. The campaign is being directed under no single head but is designed to urge people to use home grown products in preference to imported substitutes which contain far less food value for the money expended than the dairy products.

The Randall county dairymen made the first official move several weeks ago and others have followed. They urged Congressman Marvin Jones to back a bill designed to place a tax on yellow butter substitutes. Last week the Canyon Chamber of Commerce secured the unified support of Canyon merchants in pushing the sale of home brown products.

A few weeks ago, Representative A. B. Tarwater of Hale county introduced a bill in the Texas legislature to place a tax upon the sale of oleomargarine and all other substitutes for butter. In a recent issue of the Plains Progress, published at Lubbock, the subject is treated editorially under the heading, "South Plains Butter or South Sea Oleo?"

The editorial in full is as follows:

"A bill, to place a tax upon oleomargarine and all other substitutes for butter, will probably reach both floors of the Texas legislature during the present session.

"This bill is known as House Bill No. 261 and was presented by Representative A. B. Tarwater of Hale county.

"Chief contention of the bill is that oleomargarine, or other butter substitutes because of its low price, offers unfair competition to producers of butter in Texas. The oleo is made from vegetable oils, principally palm kernel oil, imported from countries where the lowest standards of living obtain.

"In order that readers might know just what these butter substitutes really are, it is well to explain that the palm kernel oil, for instance, is also utilized to form the base of soap. The same is true of substitutes made from animal fats. Food value, therefore, of these substitutes, is practically nothing. Taste, alone, fools the appetite. One had almost as well eat paraffine.

"A peculiar twist of argument advanced by the packing industry against the bill is brought out in their contention that to tax butter substitutes would cut the price of Texas cattle, as paid by the packers.

"It is to be hoped that the state legislature will pass the Tarwater bill. If they see the justice in removing an unfair competition for

THE GREAT AMERICAN HOME

Texas products, thereby, we know they will pass it. If they want the low living standards of tropical savages to determine the standard of living on Texas farms, they will ignore this bill and work to drive farmers of this state further on the road to peonage.

"Citizens of the South Plains, of all sections of Texas, can aid in the cause by refusing to be humbugged into using a substitute for butter that possesses no food value worth while."

COLLEGE RECEIVES CUP WON AT FT. WORTH '30

The West Texas State Teachers College has just received a cup given by the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, which the 1930 stock judging team won. This honor was awarded at that time but the cup arrived just this week. It is a permanent fixture in the new show case given to the college by the Cousin-Sesame Literary societies.

Leonard Stock visited friends in Lockney last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Young of Santa Rosa, N. M., are the proud parents of a boy, Buck Coleman, born February 25th. Mrs. Young will be remembered as Miss Mae Sanders of this city and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Sanders.

VISITORS SEE CANYONS

Mrs. John McNeely, Dallas, Mrs. Bessie Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Ross all of Fort Worth, accompanied by L. N. George made a trip into the Palo Duro Canyons Wednesday afternoon. They were carried to the Lighthouse and Devil's Tomb. These people are in Amarillo at this time conducting a training school at the First Christian church. They were very much interested in the park project for the Palo Duro and expressed surprise at the beauty of the canyons.

Mrs. Gordon Cumming was a guest of Mrs. Edgar Clemments of Amarillo, last Saturday.

Broughton Hardin visited friends in Happy, Sunday.

BAPTIST CHURCH PLANS TO RAISE $6,000 CASH

Last Sunday the Baptist church by a standing vote decided to begin at once a campaign to raise $6,000 payable one-half by May 1 and one-half by July 1.

The need is urgent and despite hard times the money must be forthcoming.

Ten committees were appointed, each headed by a member of the building committee and each committee is expected to raise $600. The ten chairmen are as follows: J. A. Hill, J. S. Humphreys, R. A. Bellah, Mrs. J. D. Key, Rev. B. F. Fronabarger, Miss Jennie C. Ritchie, S. B. McClure, T. V. Slack, G. W. Johnson and Dr. C. E. Donnell.

There are six members on each committee and each one is asked to give or raise $100. "A little help from our friends will be greatly appreciated," said J. S. Humphreys, chairman of finance committee.

Ed Harrell left the past week for Hot Springs, N. M., where he will spend several weeks in the interest of his health.

Churches

EPISCOPAL CHURCH

There will be services as usual at the Episcopal church next Sunday, March 22, at 7:30 p. m., when Rev. E. E. Madeira will preach.

On Monday, March 23, at 4:00 o'clock, Bishop Seaman will conduct a brief Lenten service at this church, after which those present, and any others who are interested, are invited to repair to the Little House of Fellowship, for the third of the Student Conferences which Bishop Seaman has been conducting, sponsored by the Student Religious Council of the college. The subject of this conference will be "Industrialism and Nationalism," which will be of particular interest to the members of the "International Relations Club," all of whom are invited. Following this conference, the bishop will be the guest of the Epworth League Institute for supper, and will address the meeting at 7 o'clock.

Rev. E. E. Madeira will be in Canyon all day Tuesday, March 24, and will hold a Lenten service at 4 o'clock at the Episcopal church. It is hoped that many Canyon friends of other churches will attend all of the services.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

Fifteenth street and Seventh avenue.

Services every Sunday at 11 and Wednesday at 8 p. m., when testimonies, experiences and remarks on Christian Science are given. Sunday school meets at 9:45. All under 20 years of age are invited to attend these services. Subject for Sunday, "Matter."

A reading room is maintained in the church from 3 to 5 on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, excepting holidays, where the Bible and authorized Christian Science literature may be read, purchased or borrowed. The public is cordially invited to attend these services and to visit the reading room.

A. H. Bryant, D. D. Lippard and C. E. Brown attended a meeting of the Texas Utilities in Plainview, Tuesday.

LARGE CROWD PRESENT AT AGRICULTURAL MEET

Approximately fifty people attended the monthly meeting of the Agricultural Council held at Dawn, Tuesday night, March 17. The entertainment was supplied chiefly by students of the Dawn schools assisted by local talent of the community.

One of the features of the program was a lecture delivered by L. N. George.

Another part of the regular program which brought out a rather lively discussion was presented by Joe Morris, of Amarillo. He very ably presented the situation with reference to economical production of dairy and poultry products and discussed the probable outlook.

TELEPHONE MEN HERE

F. E. Shoup of Dallas, advertising manager of the Bell Telephone company, and Tom White of Lubbock, also associated with the Bell system, were business visitors at the local telephone office and at the News office last Thursday.

Dr. E. Paul Stewart of Stratford spent Sunday and Monday here with his father, Dr. D. M. Stewart.
